

Celebrating Kant at 300: 'Kant on Reason, Nature, & Freedom'

The Dublin Kant Fest / UKKS Annual Conference: May 20–21, 2024.
Museum of Modern Literature MoLi / UCD Newman House: click here.
 * Register free: <https://forms.office.com/e/iPgVfzqXZh> or QR code:

UK Kant Society: <https://www.ukks.co.uk/conference.html>. Co-organizers: Lilian Alweiss TCI James O'Shea UCD, John Callanan KCL, Philosophy. Funding gratefully received from those four institutions, plus the German Embassy & the Brit.Soc.Hist.Phil. (BSHP).

Monday 20th May

9.30	Welcome to the Conference
9.45–11.00	Keynote: Baroness Onora O'Neill , 'Kant on Justification and Judgement'
11.00–11.25	Coffee/Tea
11.25–12.10	Andrew Stephenson , 'Kant and Kripke: Rethinking Necessity and the A Priori'	Christopher Benzenberg 'Belief Without Bounds: Kant on the Supreme Principle of Reason'
Parallel 1:
12.15–13.00	Christian Onof , 'Incongruent Counterparts, Parity & Transcendental Idealism'	Michael Kryluk , 'The Moral Politician: Reason, Nature, and Freedom in Kant's Model of Political Progress'
Parallel 2:
13.00–14.30	Lunch (own arrangement)
14.30–15.45	Keynote: Ido Geiger , 'Completing the Transcendental Project, Bridging the Gap between Nature and Freedom: An Overview of the Aims and Structure of Kant's Critique of Judgment '
15.45–16.25	Coffee/Tea
16.25–17.10	Stephen Howard , 'Where Does the Contradiction Arise in the Antinomies?'	Natalia Palatnik , 'Not So Completely an Animal': Kant on Moral Sensibility and Moral Self-Making'
Parallel 3:
17:15–18.00	Claudi Brink , 'The Distinction between Absolute and Relative Spontaneity Reconsidered'	Sarah Ratzlaff , 'Beyond the Additive-Transformative Divide: Kant and Schiller's Mutually Transformative Theory of Human Agency'
Parallel 4:
18:00–19:00	Reception (TBD). Dinner by own arrangement

Tuesday 21st May

9.30–9.45	Welcome from the German Ambassador to Ireland, Cord Meier-Klodt
9.45–11.00	Keynote: Lucy Allais , 'A Kantian Account of Human Free Agency: What Might it Mean to say that Reason Determines Choice?'
11.00–11.25	Coffee/Tea
11.25–12.10	August Buholzer Cognition, Reason & Purpose: a 'Teleosemantic' Approach to Representational Content in Kant'	Anastasia Berg , 'Kant's Gesinnung : The Sense of an Ending'
Parallel 5:
12.15–13.00	Haley Brennan 'Are Two Selves Too Many Selves? A Puzzle about the Relation Between Selves in Kant'	Martin Sticker , 'Mere Means, Mere Things and Mere Enemies'
Parallel 6:
13.00–14.30	Lunch (own arrangement)
14.30–15.15	Lorenzo Spagnesi , 'Reason and Knowledge in Kant'	Álvaro Rodríguez-González , 'An Open Future and Two Demands of Reason.'
Parallel 7:
15.15–16.00	Eylem Özultan , ' Paralogisms Revisited: Transcendental Objects as Arbitrary Object'	Antony Mikocki , 'On the provisionality of Kantian state legitimacy'
Parallel 8:
16.00–16.30	Coffee/Tea
16.30–17.45	Keynote: Tobias Rosefeldt , 'Kant's hylomorphic account of autonomy'
17.45–18.00	Conference close	